

CTO AWARDS 2024

BY  GeeksHubs

Authorisation for use of the image of the candidates

We expressly inform you that, as a candidate, during awards, recordings or photographs may be made capturing the image of the finalists/winners that may be published for corporate purposes, which is why the participants or their legal representatives consent and authorize the publication and/or use of the winning photograph and of the prize candidates, as well as the name and surname, to promote the Prize in all media and supports available to BETALAB without said use confers the right to remuneration or any benefit with the exception of the delivery of the prize won.

That is why, in accordance with the provisions of the L.O. 1/1982 of May 5, on Civil Protection of the Right to Honor, Personal and Family Intimacy and One's Own Image, the interested party expressly consents to the processing of his or her personal data and image data for these purposes on the official BETALAB website. (Geekshubs): www.geekshubs.com and on the official page of the CTO Summit; as well as on social networks on the internet (YouTube, Facebook, X, Instagram, etc.); and, finally, in press releases, promotional advertisements and social media worldwide in any type of format (television, radio, press, web pages, social networks, etc.). Most social networks are located in the United States or other countries outside the European Economic Area, whose legislation does not require a level of personal data protection equivalent to the European one. Participants and/or their representatives expressly accept the processing of their data as indicated. Without BETALAB being able to be responsible for the management of your image through said social networks.

The image of the candidates will be used by BETALAB in the terms described for a maximum of 18 months from its transfer. After this period, it will be deleted from the databases and pages in which it was published by BETALAB in order to manage the aforementioned contest.

These images may not be used for different purposes.

I authorize BETALAB to process my personal data for the purposes described.

I do not authorize BETALAB to process my personal data for the purposes described.

Signed: the candidate

In, the of 2024